

Politician

Pete Townshend

People come to me for exclamations
Don't understand what they say
This is the age of intuition
Things look a little different every day I have a little trouble
To keep on getting angry with the world
But I feel a little better whenever I say to myself I know when I'm right, I know when I'm wrong, ooh
Yeah, I know when I'm right, I know when I'm wrong, oh
I know when I'm right, and I know when I'm wrong
And I know because I can feel it, that's how I get along There he comes the politician
There he comes
(Watcha want) Now do you think, of polls of whipping
Or do you claim that on the law
Well, the book don't talk about no tripping
And the book don't talk about no war I have a little trouble
To keep on getting angry with the world
But I feel a little smoother when I say to myself I know when I'm right, I know when I'm wrong, ooh
Yeah, I know when I'm right, I know when I'm wrong, oh
I know when I'm right, and I know when I'm wrong
I know because I can feel it, that's how I get along I know when I'm right, I know when I'm wrong
I know when I'm right, I know when I'm wrong
I know when I'm right, I know when I'm wrong
I know when I'm right, I know when I'm wrong
