Trophy Scars

Converge

In pure ghost white I see what was mine
Drowned in jet black that haunts your shadows
Endless night begins
This forked road now bends
A forked tongue appears to lead us astray
All this that I have is all that you are Cutting for love a new trophy scar
Just not worth the tears and penance not worth the blood that we both pourI want to live without the guilt we give
I want to die without this pain
I want to live without the guilt we give
I want to die without your name (x2)without your name
Without this painBorn to burn with hell to pay
Born to burn with we will someday (x4)I want to live without the guilt we give
I want to die without this pain
I want to live without the guilt we give
I want to die without your name (x2)
