One More Day

My Superhero

another day for all our unclear skies so we forget about what we said one more time for you to wonder why one more time for me to nod my head that's what i said we've all been down this winding mountain road and it's not worth it to pretend there's a pain that takes you there or so i'm told before you find it, it's the end and so you'll find you've lost a friend one more day for you one more day to fall into so we'll find someday else to make mistakes with to play the game another way hearts can be given out so many times until the feelings gone away and so you'll find it's not the same
