Burn

The Tiny

I've seen you shave that box of matches
Restlessly smoke your cigarette
I hear you close the locks and latches
There are some things still to be saidThe moon wanders by and by
But time moves slowly I know just slow for you
Maybe you know that I have realized that it's all a show to youAs it seems disaster is the only way for you
As you see the chances slipping away you bloomBurn, burn, into the ground and leave it all behind
Throw the burden to the ground, strike a match and
Burn, burn, into the ground and leave it all behind
Throw the burden to the ground, strike a match and BurnI know you turn and face the sound of
The marvelous burst of shiny sparks
Cover the scars and by and by
Will fade, disappear, and leave no markAs it seems disaster is the only way for you
As you see the chances sleep away you bloomBurn, burn, into the ground and leave it all behind
Throw the burden to the ground, strike a match and
Burn, burn, into the ground and leave it all behind
Throw the burden to the ground, strike a match and BurnBurn, burn, into the ground and leave it all behind
Throw the burden to the ground, strike a match and
Burn, burn, into the ground and leave it all behind
Throw the burden to the ground, strike a match and
Burn
