Do We Belong

Test Your Reflex

She comes out in a stormy haze
Killing time in such a selfish way
You know that it's not right
So tell me love what can it be
A pretty sight for starving eyes to see
You know what you've doneAnd I don't wanna wait
And I don't wanna stay
But I don't wanna turn my back
It's never gonna change
I'll never feel the same, it's just a hopeless shade of blackAnd we will soon become
Weightless when we find out this is only one
Little fraction of our lives
And I won't believe that what I see
Is all the world has got for me
It's not the way I ever planned or ever wanted it to be
So do we belongI've been up all through the night
Watching clouds as they pass through the light
I know it needs to change
But restlessness has pulled me in
And won't let go until I learn to live
I know I've doneAnd I don't wanna wait
And I don't wanna stay
But I don't wanna turn my back
It's never gonna change
I'll never feel the same, it's just a hopeless shade of blackAnd we will soon become
Weightless when we find out this is only one
Little fraction of our lives
And I won't believe that what I see
Is all the world has got for me
It's not the way I ever planned or ever wanted it to be
So do we belongDo we belong, do we belong
Letting go, letting go just to see
Letting go, letting go set me free
Letting go, letting go just to see
Letting go, letting go set me freeAnd I won't believe that what I see
Is all the world has got for me
It's not the way I ever planned or ever wanted it, or wanted it to be Weightless when we find out this is...
Little fraction of our lives

Letting go
Weightless when we find out this is...
Little fraction of our lives
