Lost In Silence

Poison the Well

I've left my mark, I've made my statement
I won't go unnoticed past this day
My personal ideals, a building block for this world
Never again will I sit in silenceAs many sit by and watch our world pass by
I refuse to take my seat, I refuse to die in silence
So many die in silence, their voices go unheard
They sit unnoticed, they stand aloneTheir voices dictate the way your life is lived
Too afraid to speak, too scared to oppose
The fear inside you breeds your silence
So now you live the life or another
