

Greed

Liberty X

How much do you really want? If you had it would it really solve your problems? Struggling for something you may never get Do you realise the pain it causes How much would you sacrifice if I told you I could change your life? You don't have to take on my advice Is it justified or is it greed? Don't do something that you might regret How much do you really need? If you satisfy your vanity If you get to where you think you wanna go Cos in the end what will you have to show? How much is it gonna take? Will you see it through or will you break? Greed becomes your main obsession Life can be lonely When all you have are your possessions Just take it slowly If what you want ain't what you need You've become a victim of your greed How much do you really feel? Can you recognise when something's real? Do you live your life by fake ideals? Do you think that one day you will get the chance? What happens if you don't achieve Will it be enough if you believe You can just rely on destiny Don't you know your fate is in your hands How much is enough for you? When you reach the top what will you do? Will you look around for something new? Will you try day after day Without the destination will you carry on? What would you do if all your pride was gone? Pretend you don't hear what they say? When all you have are your possessions Greed becomes your main obsession Life can be lonely Just take it slowly You've become a victim of your greed If what you want ain't what you need Cos material possessions ain't the world (Ain't the world) Nobody ever bought you happiness with diamonds or pearls (What they really are) (Diamonds or pearls) You've gotta look at this for what they really are Or you'll find yourself wanting more Going way too far Life can be lonely When all you have are your possessions Greed becomes your main obsession Just take it slowly If what you want ain't what you need You've become a victim of your greed Life can be lonely Just take it slowly You've become a victim of your greed If what you want ain't what you need Life can be lonely Greed becomes your main obsession When all you have are your possessions Just take it slowly If what you want ain't what you need You've become a victim of your greed Life can be lonely Just take it slowly...

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>