Second Chapter

Blue Scholars

Written by danny kirwan.You're like a second chapter
In a book I read somewhere
Where the rain fell down
And covered everyoneJust like that second chapter
Where two people me somewhere
And said good-bye
And never met againThrough the hills and valleys we sat wondering
We really thought that we were loversSoloYou're like a second chapter
In a book I read somewhere
Where the rain fell down
And covered everyoneJust like that second chapter
Where two people me somewhere
And said good-bye
And never met againThrough the hills and valleys we sat wondering
We really thought that we were loversThrough the hills and valleys we sat wondering
We really thought that we were lovers
