

Love Will Come Back Again

The Hive Dwellers

I got a lonesome cravin' for how you behave
When we drive on past the draw
You fill my heart with forget-me-nots
And I feel about 8 feet tall
Well, I feel about 8 feet tall
Why don't you give my heart a call? Welllll If there's no good reason why I've been keepin' your ribbon safe and warm
Besides the things we did up in the crib
When we layed down with the corn
When we layed down with the corn
Why turn another ribbon to scorn welll
Love will come back again
x4Love will come back again, ohhhh Love will come back again
You just gotta give it a little lane
Feed it with trust and stoke it with faith
And it'll pay you back in strength, welll
It'll pay you back in strength
Love'll come back, love'll come back
Love will come back again Love will come back again An empty pleasure and a greek ball better
If it turns out you got blessed
So I dress my wounds for a rendezvous
Of the flowers freshly pressed
Oh the flowers freshly pressed
A buckle that came undressed welll
Love will back again x4Love will come back again, ohhhh Love will come back again, heyyyyy Love will come back again
x5

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>