Release and Be Free

Kelley Hunt

I believe, I have carried this burden long enough My heart oh my heart is ready oh yes it is To lay it down, down, down and rise up oh Lay it down and rise up that I can walk a lot of paths, can see a clearer way
And be unafraid to fae a brand new day
Sing (sing) my truest song, and know just what it is to release and be free

Oh I can hear, I can hear the whispers that are calling - calling Calling to my soul
Then it's time, it's time to listen oh its time to bless them and let 'em go Ohh and I may walk a lot of paths, I see a clear, a clearer way and be unafraid to face a brand new day Sing, sing my truest song and know just what it is to release and be free wooh wo
May you walk a lot of paths, may you see a clearer way
May you be unafraid , unafraid to face a brand new day Come on and sing, sing , sing your truest song and know, know know just what it is to release and be free walk, walk on , walk, walk on and see and see a clearer way and release and be free
