Every Time We Fall

Lea Salonga

Here we are at the crossroads again
And neither of us knows the right way
So here we go trying to get by
The limits of our yesterdaysIf it brings us down it wouldn't be the first time +
Over and over, we put our hearts on the lineEvery time we fall, we get a little stronger, baby
Every time we walk away, it hurts a little more
Someday we may find we can make it last this time
Until then, we give it all every time we fallWhen you're gone, you're still burning me
And I'm jealous of the sun that warms you
And still I know, I'm walking in your dreams
And I ain't seen the last of you'Coz there's a part of you that never really leaves
Over and over, you keep coming back to meEvery time we fall, we get a little stronger, baby
Every time we walk away, it hurts a little more
Someday we may find we can make it last this time
Until then, we give it all every time we fallWhen one road ends, there's always another one to try
So we're going through these changes time and time again
You and me, there's no goodbye, no goodbye'Coz there's a part of you that never really leaves
Over and over, you keep coming back to meEvery time we fall, I feel it's getting stronger, baby
Stronger, baby, stronger, babyEvery time we fall, we get a little stronger, baby
Every time we walk away, it hurts a little more
Someday we may find we can make it last this time
Until then, we give it all every time we fallEvery time we fall, only makes us stronger
Every time we walk away, hurts just a little bit more
Someday we may find we can make it last this time
Until then, we give it all every time we fallEvery time we fall, we get a little stronger, baby
Every time we walk away, well it hurts just a little more
Someday we may find we can make it, we can make it
Until then, we give it all every time we fall
