

What's Gotten Into Us?

Kensington

Say, are you willing to go?
Taking chances on a different side
Explore the unknownSo, are you ready to show?
Some affinity with imminent change
That's still to unfoldWhen you analyse and read between the lines
Desertion as desired
Is nothing less than, less than nothingSo, are you planning on a permanent goodbye?
But right now you're still here
In the darkest hour you will hit the lights
Before you disappearSay, are you eager to know?
Can you manage with a limited mind?
Will you manage in these cynical times?When you analyse and read between the lines
Desertion as desired
Is nothing less than, less than nothingSo, are you planning on a permanent goodbye?
But right now you're still here
In the darkest hour you will hit the lights
Before you disappearWhen living in disguise
For raising questions
Then living's lost its life
And how to leave is all there's left to know
