

3,000 Miles

Champs

If you don't ask questions then I won't ask why
There's a million different stars in the big, big sky
Like a million different waves in the big, big sea
A million different dreams lie ahead of me
But as I lay out on the kitchen floor
There's a million different stories banging at my door
But the only one I want is the one with you
You make me electric on the avenue(Chorus)
But you're 3,000 miles away, 3,000 miles away
And I don't ever want to see you surrender
And I never want to say goodbye
Cause the last thing I remember
Is the tear falling from your eye
And you've looked to the burning sky
Into the bright through the burning skyThe way she moves is like a rolling scene
She's got more love than she will ever need
She's like a midnight bolt of electricity
And when she asked she said do we need
Have little more time tomorrow my mind but what's inside is just a waste of time
Oceans may break the walls you've on your shore
Rivers might change the shape of your fall(Chorus)
But you're 3,000 miles away, 3,000 miles away
And I don't ever want to see you surrender
And I never want to say goodbye
Cause the last thing I remember
Is the tear falling from your eye
And you've looked to the burning sky
Into the bright through the burning sky
