

Silverfire

Empires

Froze the world that we live in
Chose the friends isolated
Out of touch, disconnected
The ordinary things
You lured the fool right out of me
Straight to your technology
All I know, oh, your cantalope, oh, your cantalope tree
Your emancipated arms
Swing through the cherry scene
I know why, that you can't allow, that you can't allow me
The kids that come to mind
They'll give you anything to come on by
Where you go?
It goes, it goes, it goes away
And I'm sorry I'm faded now
I'm so sorry I'm gonna fade out
I'm already unchained
I'm sorry I'm fading out
The silverfire
We aren't the only ones burning
We aren't the only ones burning alive
We aren't the only ones burning alive
It must be damned to only dream
It must be damned to only dream
It must be damned to only, to only, dream
I'm so sorry I'm fading
I'm sorry I'm faded now
The silverfire
We aren't the only ones burning
We aren't the only burning alive
We aren't the only ones burning alive
I must be damned to only dream
It must be damned to only dream
