Everything Ends

Blank Maps

I had a conversation with a dying man
He said 'Son, make sure you live while you still can'
Said I can lie to the rules of war and I can swim the seas
He said, 'Boy, oh you know not what you have'
Now I lay on my bed waiting
Those words resound in my head
Now I remember he told me
'You'll see when everything ends'
I had a conversation with a dying man
Till I pass it by, your love becomes an eye
The worst path to follow, swallowed by the sea
You said 'so? enjoy it while you can'
Now I lay on my bed waiting
Those words resound in my head
Now I remember he told me

'You'll see when everything ends'
Now I remember he told me
'You'll see when everything ends'
(Everything ends)
(Everything ends)
(Everything ends)
I don't think they'll walk with us anymore
Now I lay on my bed waiting
Those words resound in my head
Now I remember he told me
'You'll see where everything ends'
I had a conversation with a dying man
He said 'Son, make sure you live while you still can'
