[Incomprehensible]Nothing new for you now, how can you bury?
Filling up all your eyes and never swearing
With your embrace I receive, receive the enemy
Is this the Christ that you need or not the Christ that you need?Where do you gain your strength?
One look and you will know
Who chokes on boxes of fucking pills?Choking on your thoughts of what used to be Choking on your thoughts of what used to beShe's clothed with the silk, waiting to be drained dry
And the echoes will come they'll come all around
And drain us all, dry, they'll drain us all dryAs we gag on the dust of the everyday
I choke on one more reminder you know I'm aloneWhere do you gain your strength? I wish I knew
Where do you gain your strength? I wish I knewShe's clothed with the silk, waiting to be drained dry
And the echoes will come they'll come all around
And drain us all dryShe's clothed with the silk, waiting to be drained dry
And the echoes will come they'll come all around
And drain us all dry, they'll drain us all dryFaith has led the way, dismantle
Faith has led the way, dismantle
