

Something Special

The Tough Alliance

You're worth something special
You're worth something real
You're worth something special
Something real, use it up and wear it out
Not much left to care about work full time to shake the doubts
You should call time out running up and down the block
Hiding from a passive shock easy if you talk the talk if you walk the walk.

Make believe around the clock play your part until you drop easy if you talk the talk if you walk the walk,
You're worth something special you're worth something real
You're worth something special something real...
