Hold On to the One

Slightly Stoopid

Why you gotta tell me like I ain't no good for you?
And why you gotta tell me like it's somethin' I should do?
Never really know if time will tell
Woke up in heaven, now I'm livin' in hellSo, hold on to the one, who will make you feel numb
Hold on to the one, 'cause it's better than some
Hold on to the one, who will make you feel numb
Hold on to the one, 'cause it's better than someSince the first time that I looked in your eyes
It was a feelin', kept me wonderin' inside
Feelings of lost or maybe even confused
So much for lovin' that I'm willin' to loseSo, hold on to the one, who will make you feel numb
And hold on to the one, 'cause it's better than some
And hold on to the one, who will make you feel numb
And hold on to the one, 'cause it's better than someA little bit soft, a little bit smooth, a little bit longer, now
A little bit fast, a little bit hard untill we get stronger, nowTo rock with me, baby
Come on and roll with me, sweet darlin'
I wanna rock with you, baby
Come on and roll with me, sweet darlin'So, hold on to the one, who will make you feel numb
And hold on to the one, 'cause it's better than some
And hold on to the one, who will make you feel numb
And hold on to the one, 'cause it's better than some
