Words As Weapons

Seether

All I really want is something beautiful to sayKeep me locked up in your broken mind
I keep searchin, never been able to find a
Light behind your dead eyes
Not anything at allYou keep living in your own lie, ever deceitful and ever unfaithful
Keep me guessin, keep me terrified
Take everything from my worldSay can you help me right before the fall
Take what you can and leave me to the wolvesKeep me dumb, keep me paralyzed
Why try swimming? I'm drowning in fables
You're not that saint that you externalize
You're not anything at allIt's oh-so playful when you demonize
To spit out the hateful, you're willing and able
Words are weapons I'd be terrified
You're nothing in my worldSay can you help me right before the fall
Take what you can and leave me to the wolvesAll I really want is something beautiful to say
Keep me guessin, keep me terrifiedAll I really want is something beautiful to say
You keep livin' in your own lieAll I really want is something beautiful to say
To never fade away, I wanna live forever!All I really want is something beautiful to say
To never fade away, I wanna live forever!You keep living in your own lie
Keep me guessin, keep me terrifiedAll I really want is something beautiful to saySay can you help me right before the fall
Take what you can and leave me to the wolvesAll I really want is something beautiful to say
Words are weapons I'd be terrifiedAll I really want is something beautiful to say
Keep me guessin, keep me terrifiedAll I really want is something beautiful to say
To never fade away, I wanna live forever!All I really want is something beautiful to say
To never fade away, I wanna live forever!
