Vomit

Insane Clown Posse

Erica was a beautiful girl even without her makeup
She was something stunning from the time she wake up
She had many sugar daddies paying for her needs
They never knew about eachother or her evil deeds
She was self vindictive and wicked into shame
God gave her that beauty but ugly was her brain
As the years went by she continued using suckers
Hard working individuals who gave all just to fuck her
As Erica grew older her look's begin to fade
She's spent every dime they had to be surgicaly upgrade
But that would only last so long as time continue ticking
The evil lure the Erica crew as now she's old and bitching
She died up in her older lady laying in her coffin
View saw her funeral as none would visit often
Her soul dropped into hell screaming as she plummets
Beelzebub welcomes her as on her face he vomits

On her face he vomits
Beelzebub welcome sir as on her face he vomits

John was a wealthy kid who had all that he wanted
Taught only in the finest schools he shut up like a comic Graduating college, the world rests in his hands
Never thinking of the greedy or tryin' to understand
He landed at high paying job, his wealth accumulated
Charities that's often but only left degrading
He married and had children but money's what he love
He never had time for his kids in oddest ways he shoved 'em
He grew older in his fashion and never was he proud
Of anything that they've accomplished and he screamed loud
Finally one of his sons who've felt rejected and neglected
Commited suicide and John still didn't correct it
John grew older rich and greedy and he's died this way
His kids will really care less, but this ain't never said
His soul dropped into hell screaming as he plummets
Beelzebub welcomes him as on his face he vomits

Beelzebub welcome him as on his face he vomits

On his face he vomits

If the heavens above had rejected your soul
Never are you lost without a place to go
Deeper to the bottom of hell's eternal fire
You are always welcome to back and retire
