Mona

CharlElie Couture

I can give you golden tinkling bells
To even dangle through your long black hair
I can give you magic satin slippers
Woven just to take you anywhere.I can give you all the love and tenderness
A broken heart can spare
Mona take the love I give
Don't ask for love I gave away back thereYou could take the hand of any man
And show him how to dream
Why do you look back into my dark
And bitter past, can't you see?Mona when you found me
All I had was sad and broken dreams
Mona please be satisfied walking
Through tomorrow here with meI can give you golden tinkling bells
To even dangle through your long black hair
I can give you magic satin slippers
Woven just to take you anywhereMona take the love I give Don't ask for love I gave away back there
