

The Reason

Diamond Rio

Oh, the pride and the ego used to run my life
It's hard for me to say, but I was fine with that
All the power and the glory, yeah I had it all
Oh, the selfishness, that's where I was at I forgot who I was Lord, You know I forgot You
But You never forgot me
No, You never forgot me All that I am and all I'll ever be
Is in Your hands, You've given every victory
Lord, You are the reason I stand here today
Lifting my voice, raising You up, 'cause I believe
Oh, I believe I'm nothing, nothing without You All my second chances, they were not deserved
Why You never gave up, it's a mystery
My strength is my faith and my faith is in You
Now I understand it's not about me I'll not waste another day
Lord, use me as You will
I surrender all, I surrender all All that I am and all I'll ever be
Is in Your hands, You've given every victory
Lord, You are the reason I stand here today
Lifting my voice, raising You up, 'cause I believe
Oh, I believe I'm nothing, nothing without You
Nothing without You, nothing without You
