written by Roosevelt Martin for Adcona publishing(ascap)

VERSE I

I just spent the night with you now what am I going to do looking into your eyes where does my future lie

Is it here with you or am I destined to be alone for all eternity, dear heart talk to me

HOOK

When the moment arrives and I look in your eyes my heart will be a thousand times For deep inside of me, the thought of what may be could change the course of our very lives And if I confess I want nothing less than to wake up every morning, here with you what will you do

VERSE II

When you finally arise will I see love in your eyes and will your heart beat for me take away my insecurities will you understand that I'm bearing my heart and soul I need to know, how do you feel the situation won't go away

REPEAT HOOK

Interlude

REPEAT HOOK - able to fade.
