

Break Me

One Less Reason

Enter the world you've left behind.
These games you've played, inside my mind.
Forget the past, it seems so far away.
Never had the choice, there was too much to say.
Take a risk with you, we'll make these dreams come true.
There's nothing left to say, if you leave me...
Alone! Break me again
You had your chance come and take me as I am.
Broken again
I cared too much come protect me from myself.
This outcome disconnects me, from the silence you create.
I felt so insecure, you never took the time to tell me it's over.
My heart still bleeds for you. there's nothing left to do,
I know that you're not good for me...
Right now! Break me again
You had your chance come and take me as I am.
Broken again
I cared too much come protect me from myself. I gave myself a place to hide,
I wish that you would come inside but I've given up on you.
I think about another place where only I can see your face
But there's nothing left for me
Because I'm broken.
Break me again
You had your chance come and take me as I am.
Broken again
I cared too much come protect me from myself.
