

Of Which There Is No Like

Mandolin Orange

Every night's just like the last
And those summer rains keep falling
I'll know I'm home at last
When these thoughts no longer call me
Away from the arms of my darling
And into the dark, dark night
Out to sea, such jubilee
Of which there is no like
All the faces and the names
Pass me by in color
We dance among the blameless
Our only friends and lovers
Away from the arms of my darling
And out in the dark, dark night
Out to sea, such jubilee
Of which there is no like
Every night comes to an end
A faded heart for every star
One by one is overcome
By the pale blue light of dawn
Hold me tight tonight, my darling
Out of the dark, dark night
Home to see, such jubilee
Of which there is no like
