Ignite

Living Sacrifice

Flicker inside, I've seen the end my friend
Cannot continue in this life
Abide in the promises told
Abide in the promises proven
Abide in the promises told, abide inFan the spark of hope in all is not lost here
I saw the outcome once before
So distant it seems so long ago, he's still alive
Intercession so strong, fan the flame, so close now
Awaken the strength, internalWrite it down, make it plan
I saw the end once before
You were there with your heart in your hand outstretchedShedding this darkness
With every glance to the sky, the fire is revealingThese walls, last night
Twisting, turning, faithful, sleepless, faithful
But now I can feel
But now I can taste the air of freedom
Ripping throughWrite it down, make it plan
I saw the end once before
You were there with your heart in your hand outstretchedShedding this darkness
With every glance to the sky, the fire is revealingMoving walls
Ripping down this structure
The air of freedom ripping through meWrite it down, make it plan
I saw the end once before
You were there with your heart in your hand outstretchedShedding this darkness
With every glance to the sky, the fire is revealing
