Holding On

Dragonforce

Waaa...!
Steel of the brave hearts trapped inside
In frozen of illusion
High is the mountain we must climb
Reach out for rebellion
Rise up to the open sky
One chance at the price of glory
Fire in a thousand blazing skies
One lifetime ascending
Strong is an army, side by side
Still brave and defending
March on through the tragic lands
Cold tears in the north wind falling
Raise your souls high
See the new dawn arise through the
Sands of all time, mystery of life
Everlasting sadness through lightyears gone by
Land lost in time, once more back where we belong
Promises of yesterday, we'll keep holding on
Silent and twisted, lifeless mind
So blind in delusion
Cursed by the emptiness inside
Cast out in confusion
Strike back with the power in hand
Break free from a past life, dying
Onwards we strive till
The answers we'll find in the

Sands of all time, mystery of life
Everlasting sadness through lightyears gone by
Land lost in time, once more back where we belong
Promises of yesterday, we'll keep holding on
Still lost alone and I'm dying
Daylight the world is still crying
Evermore we'll search throughout a lifetime
Solo
Stars are falling down tonight,
Light the path where eagles fly
Find the strength inside us, a new world reborn

Silent tears of pain we cried,
Raise our hands unto the sky
Break the chains that bind us,
One moment in time as we
Rise up to the open sky
One chance at the price of glory
Raise your souls high
See the new dawn arise through the
Sands of all time, mystery of life
Everlasting sadness through lightyears gone by
Land lost in time, once more back where we belong
Memories of life to pray for Everlasting price to pay for
Promises of yesterday, we'll keep holding on
Sands of all time, once more we'll rise up again
Stand alone and fight till the end
