Running Back To You

Matt Wertz

Maybe you'll always learn the hard way
Maybe the only way is through
That after all the dust is settled
You're the only thing I know is true

Either way, either way
I am running back to you, running back to you

Right away, right away
Got me running back to you, running back to you
Oh oh oh

Lately surrender isn't willing
But it's surrender all the same
All the spaces you've been filling
After I'm the one who ran away

Either way, either way
I am running back to you, running back to you

Right away, right away

Got me running back to you, running back to you
Oh

Where I've been all these years with you beside me
I can't believe that you can love me all the same
How far I've run, who I've become, you'll always find me
After all I'm the one who ran away

Either way, either way
I am running back to you, running back to you

Either way, either way
I am running back to you, running back to you
Run away, run away,
Got me running back to you, running back to you
Oh oh oh yeah
I'm running back to you
Running back to you

Oh, run away
Oh, run away
Running back to you
Running back to you
