

The Hound (of Blood And Rank)

Coheed And Cambria

Was it in the cold of that knife you screwed
In the heart of the enduring?
'Cause when you opened that door
You knew, well now there'd be no returning
Or room to mourn what we have lost
And to wait while the willing
As you, the hound of blood and rank
And boy, you've got another thing coming
Come on, come on, come on
You've got a deal to make
I thought you wanted to
Come on and set me free, yeah
I'll dig until we've made your grave
Oh, you've been a bad, bad boy
I could until I call it out
And sink it in a sad, sad song, n-n-no, no, no
Why the bother? I'm no brother
You're the wrong I need
Boy, we all found an audience
While you found the worst of me
You got another thing
Hold 'em up against the wall
Now there all of no use to you
God, it's time for the curing
Only you're in for that big refuse
Surprise boy, this tide's come to turning
No room to mourn what you have lost
Ah, no wait you are the willing
Only you, hound of blood and rank
Who deserves every ounce of what's coming
Come on, come on, come on
You've gotta give it to me
I thought you wanted to
Come on and set me free, yeah
I'll dig until we've made your grave
Oh, you've been a bad, bad boy
I could until I call it out
And sink it in a sad, sad song, n-n-no, no, no
Why the bother? I'm no brother

You're the wrong I need
Boy, we all found an audience
While you found the worst of me
You got another thing
Come on, come on, come on
You gotta give it to me
I thought you wanted to
Come on and set me free, yeah
I'll dig until we've made your grave
Oh, you've been a bad, bad boy
I could until I call it out
And sink it in a sad, sad song, n-n-no, no, no
Why the bother? I'm no brother
You're the wrong I need
Boy, we all found an audience
While you found the worst of me
You got another thing
In the worm's eye you've lied in
And in the dust we left you guiding
If only words could keep you hiding
And boy, cowards give up you, cowards give up you
It's all on you, boy, it's all on you, boy
It's all on you, boy, it's all on you, boy
It's all on you, boy, it's all on you, boy
It's all on you, boy
