Nine Cats

Porcupine Tree

The butterfly sailed on the breeze
Past a field of barbed wire trees
Where golden dragons chased around
Pampered poppies on the groundTwo silver trout sat way on high
And watched a royal samurai
Plant two black orchids in a box
And strap it to a laughing foxA minstrel bought a crooked spoon
He gave it to a blue baboon
Who filled it full of virgin snow
And wondered it in the afterglowA toad stood in his ballet shoes
Teaching sixteen kangaroos
How to skip across a lake
They found it hard to stay awake
