Ticking Bombs

Go Betty Go

It isn't easy
To continue what we've got here
what should we do?
It's been years since the first time it started
I thought I knew
I'm not the same person that I was back then
Time passed and I'm so uncertain about thisMore and more you cry each night
It's all my fault and you wonder
Why I'm gone so all the time
It's like a bomb ticking in our livesI'm sorry but it's hard being honest
I'm not like you
I'm getting doubts
And I don't know how to stop them
I can't tell you
Disappointments add up when it's hard to reach you
All the things
We both worked hard for
We'll loseMore and more you cry each night
It's all my fault and you wonder
Why I'm gone so all the time
it's like a bomb ticking in our livesYou have to know that I'm getting sad and quiet, it's nothing new
I try so hard to bring up fallen causes
I always loseMore and more you cry each night
It's all my fault and you wonder
Why I'm gone so all the time
It's like a bomb ticking in our livesIt isn't easy
To continue what we got here
What should we do?
It's been years
Since the first time it started
I thought I knew
