Singing In the Shower

Juliana Hatfield

Morning has come
Much too soon
He puts on his tie
And thinks of youSinging in the shower
Dreaming of nights he's been missing
All of his lifeSinging in the shower
No one can hear
He's been no one for forty years
He wanted to live like a rolling stone
With a beautiful wife
And city and country homesSinging in the shower
He's off tonight
He's been no one all of his life
Singing in the shower
No one can hear
He's been waiting for forty years
