The Departed

Simply Syndicated

To think, beyond what you could think
And feel, beyond what u can feel
To see, beyond what can be seen
And be, beyond what we believe... oh yeah
I know you know something, so many miles and miles away
In separation, we come together,
It never ends, change has just begun
Believing as we release the departed
To know, what no one else could know
A way, into the unexplained (oh yeah)
Redeem, my soul into my body
To think, my souls been damned again, and again and again

I know you know something, so many miles and miles away, yeah
Why can't we do better? As the line between begins to fade
In separation, we come together
It never ends, change has just begun
Believing as we release the departed (x2)
Trying to be, higher than I am
Trying to see, (yeah) beyond what I can
Trying to be, higher than I am
Trying to see, beyond what I can
In separation, we come together
It never ends, change has just begun
Believing, as we release the departed (x2)
