

Great Divide

Nine Days

Every moment is a memory
On and on until eternity
But as far as any eye can see
There's a great divide Maybe we can find a way
To fall into each others arms
And finally we can say nothing
Tired of making same mistakes
With the same old bullshit lines
So maybe we should say nothing Every moment is our destiny
We can be just who we wanna be
Or as far as any eye can see
There's a great divide Maybe we can find a way
To fall into each others arms
And finally we can say nothing
Tired of making same mistakes
With the same old bullshit lines
So maybe we should say nothing All we are is everything that we'll become
And might have been
All we are is everything that we'll become
And might have been All we are is a
Moment passing on and on
And all we are is everything that we'll become
And might have been Tired of making same mistakes
With the same old bullshit lines
So maybe we should say nothing
Maybe we can find a way
To fall into each others arms
And finally we can say nothing

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>