

Champagne

311

I will never understand you
When will I stop trying?
I mean, 'cause it's just not how I planned to Spend my time 'til dying I mean, champagne, California on the brain
She's got an appetite for no refrains
Just verses, she curses as blood vessels burst in defiance
She made an alliance to the dark side of Hollywood
Everything looks good so I treat her right as any other player would
Lightly then she wants to fight me Too bad, that's just too bad
I can't be around to pick up your bags and your debts
She wants to love me with threats
Not taking chances, I'm hedging my bets
With other girls I'm not providing pearls I'm free, free I will never understand you
When will I stop trying?
I mean, 'cause it's just not how I planned to Spend my time 'til dying, I mean Loving me isn't easy home and next thing I'm leaving
But when I look at you it's like praying with my eyes
I follow you to sleep so I will find
Your dream place and hey, I'm not an angel
But girl you make me feel like I know one, one Champagne, California on the brain
She's got an appetite for no refrains
Just verses, she curses as blood vessels burst in defiance
She made an alliance to the dark side of Hollywood
Everything looks so good, so I treat her right as any other sucker would
Lightly then she wants to fight me Too bad, that's just too bad
I can't be around to pick up your bags and your debts
She wants to love me with threats
Not taking chances, I'm hedging with my bets
With other girls I'm not providing pearls
I'm free, free, never understand
