

Never Alone

Bif Naked

Lying in your hotel bed you cry
For the years that were wasted and time gone by Darling girl can you not see your soul is bright?
I wish you could know it's all gonna be all right
A little determination
And a little more pride
A little determination
Will ease your pain inside
Let me tell you
That you're never alone
Yeah, yeah
Red wine stains your lips and mind
Clouding memories from which you always hide
Little girl when will you learn to shake it off?
Try to smile or the pain surely will not stop
A little determination
And a little more pride
A little determination
Will ease your pain inside
Let me tell you
That you're never alone
Yeah, yeah
A sadness fuels your contemplation
You must remember that your life's only just begun
Know you're in the eye of the hurricane
A safe place only because there it doesn't rain
A little determination
And a little more pride
A little determination
Will ease your pain inside
Let me tell you
That you're never alone
Yeah, yeah
