

Hate to Love You

Maria

I still believe that if you and I could turn the clocks back
We'd realize that what we have
Has gone from worse to bad
It's clear, things are not what they appear Tell me what happened to butterflies?
I used to get them when you'd walk by
And I'd just have to touch you
To know that you were mine
Ain't it funny how time flies? I hate to love you but I get the feeling
When I'm thinking of you, it's crazy but true
I hate to love you but I keep believing
It's the way to you like I do I keep on choosing to never learn
Can't win for losing so I return
To what I know and even though
I pray for change same old story, same old game There's no denying that we both tried
But what good is trying
If every time we breakup to makeup?
I'm tired of the trend, I feel it coming 'round again How many times will I say goodbye?
How many tears do I have to cry?
How many wrongs will it take to make it right?
Baby, I wonder why
