Sarah Jones

Ten Foot Pole

sarah jones is acting out a monologue to teach the world about justice what women want
"im not an object!"
she screams with eyes on fire the crowd goes wild shes preaching to the choirW. is making love to shareholders who own a piece of sunshine we own the world
"oil is our saviour!
now we can all retire"
a billion reasons why
hes preaching to the choiryeah i wanna find some friends some common ground
where everything is fine and everything is easy
yeah im gonna speak my mind and sing out loud
where everyone is kind and everyone who sees me nodsmoses junior on the streets of hollywood shouting meets a sinner
"god save your soul"
"repent,repent
the devil is a liar"
a brick screams out the cost (of)not preaching to the choir

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/