Sirens Call (live)

Jesse Stewart

[Chorus]
I heard the sirens call
Deep within the oceans crawl
And I know that I'm better off there
I heard that sirens call
Begging me through the walls
And I know I'm better off there
I'm better off, better off

[Verse 1]
Wanna live underwater homes
A place to rest my weary bones
In the forests made of jelly fish
Where mystery's more than just a wish
And now the surface is my sky
We smoke seaweed, to get real high
And the current tide drags me far away
Out to the deeps leaves me here to stay
And I know, I'm better off there
I know we'd all be better off there
Better off

[Refrain]
Keep your life-jacket on
Keep your life-jacket on
I never wanted to have to write this song
I was right there, I waiting for your hands to grasp
Waiting for your hands to grasp at the air
You said you'd be right back
You said you'd be right back
You gave a thousand motherfuckers heart attacks

[Chorus]
But you heard that siren's call
Deep within the oceans crawl
And you knew you'd be better off there
I've heard that siren's call
Beggin' me through the walls

And I know I'm better off there

[Verse 2]
The helicopter overshadows the day
The military police came and they left
And when the rain came it washed it all away
On that mournful Sunday

[Chorus]
I've heard the sirens call
Beggin' me through the walls
And I know that I'm better off there

[Refrain]
Never meant for some long white table
Never meant for some long white table
I woulda' done the same if I was able
But we miss you and sadly we didn't get to say goodbye
Goodbye, goodbye to you
And I tell you true your sister does too

[Outro]
But you heard the sirens call
You heard the sirens call
And you chose a beautiful place to take your fall
You heard the sirens call
Deep within the oceans crawl
And I know you'll be better off there
You heard the sirens call
Beggin' you through the walls
And I know you're better off there...
