Damnation

Pothead

Lets go down town, tell me what you're seein'
Tell me what its like to get that old, cold feelin'
Spend all night just a lookin' at the ceilin'
Livin' in a blown out hotel buildin'
All the machines are broken down
Its a narrow path between evil and good
Watch the strong man in his decline
Another man dying is misunderstood
All i see is damnation
Whole world's gone to hell

Don't see things the way they we're
Only see things the way they are now
Realize now that its gone to far
Look into the eyes of the dead and gone now
All the machines are broken down
Its a song and dance between evil and good
In the stages of final decline
All alone, misunderstood
All i see is damnation
Whole world's gone to hell
