

Heart & Soul

Lorraine Ellison

Just loving you has left the world behind

I wish I knew how love could be so blind

Now all these things I never can let go

Can't let go I'd give you my heart & soul (I'd give you my heart & soul)

If that's what it takes to prove myself to you I understand my life has lost control

What would I do without your love to hold

Nobody knows how much I've come alive

All that I have to give I give to you from deep inside I'd give you my heart & soul (I'd give you my heart & soul)

If that's what it takes to prove myself to you

I'd give you my heart & soul (I'd give you my heart & soul)

To hold you now and let your love come thru And all these nights I sat alone waiting for someone

And here you are my very own, waiting for so long

I want to give you more than you have known before
