

Too Much to Handle (Xyconstant Remix)

Great Good Fine OK

I think I'm gonna melt away
I think I'm running out of time
How much can I hear you say,
Before I take what's mine?
I swear I never meant to call
Just tell me what I need to know
I'm reading in between the line
Trying to get you out of my mind Oh oh oh ooh oh,
What you gonna do when I call?
And it's all on the table
When your time is up,
And your love won't make a sound?
What you gonna do then?
It's almost too much to handle! Oh ooh oh oh ooh
It's almost too much to handle!
Oh ooh oh oh ooh
It's almost too much to handle! Maybe you've said it all,
It wasn't always my fault
Play with the heat in the car,
You always want to show me more
and you've never seen him before
When will he call?
You came into my left alone
Looking for a place to call your own. Oh ooh oh oh ooh, oh ooh oh oh ooh
What you gonna do when I call?
And it's all on the table
When your time is up,
And your love won't make a sound?
What you gonna do then?
It's almost too much to handle!
And it's all on the table
When your time is up,
And your love won't make a sound?
What you gonna do then?
It's almost too much to handle! I'll never wait for a love life, never wait never wait for a love life
I'll never wait for a love life, never wait never wait for a love life
I'll never wait for a love life, never wait never wait for a love life
I'll never wait for a love life, never wait never wait for a love life (x2)
What you gonna do when I call?

And it's all on the table
When your time is up,
And your love won't make a sound?
What you gonna do then?
It's almost too much to handle!
