

Lost Soul

Harley Poe

Tell her not to go, tell her not to leave, it's ok
Tell her to stay awhile and pray.
You know we sacrifice, you know that we in love so much
I don't care if you've been touched by another man's embrace.
But I can see through your eyes, though my heart sometimes lies,
Do you really despise a man who once shared your soul?
But I can't let go, and you'll never know.

I'm just a lost soul, struggling in your world
Hold me in your arms, don't let me go.
I'm just a lost soul, struggling in your world
I seek the answers I'm not sure that I'm allowed to know.

Look at me mama, are you praying for me?
My faith ain't what it used to be.
I'm having some trouble gettin' over her love
You keep telling me to focus on things above.
Look at me daddy, what do you see?
A little mamma's boy displaced from reality
It seems so unfair, were you ever there?
Did I just blame you for the shit that's happening to me?
Look at me God, oh
I'm just a man, why should you pay any mind?
Who am I, oh
Death has come for me, oh lord, please be kind

Cause I'm just a lost soul, struggling in your world
Hold me in your arms, don't let me go
Cause I'm just a lost soul, struggling in your world
I seek the answers I'm not sure that I'm allowed to know

Look at me lovely, what happened to us?
We had something that the world could never touch.
We became tainted, innocence lost
Our new lives that we lead came at a cost
I hope it was worth it, I hope your life is great,
You know you deserve it and I deserve my fate
For letting you go, but I want you to know
I have loved you even when it didn't show
I have loved you,

I have loved you,
I have loved you,
Loved you, ah.

I'm just a lost soul, struggling in your world
Hold me in your arms, don't let me go.
I'm just a lost soul, struggling in your world
I seek the answers I'm not sure that I'm allowed to know.
