Job

Cindy Morgan

Where were You when my night fell?
Pieces shattered everywhere
If I have loved You with my whole heart
Time will tell, time will tellWere the stars moving across the ocean?
Did the world turn away for just a glance
And leave me here in these ashes?
I will weep, I will dance'Cause all I have is Yours
All these ashes and these sores
All that I am living for
I will follow You to shoreWell, I hear Your voice and it sounds angry
I have questioned You time and again
So I'll be here in the silence
'Til I can walk, I will standAll I have is Yours
All these ashes and these sores
All that I am living for
I will follow You, I will follow You
I will follow You to shore
