

Murder By Numbers

Bleeding Through

Murder ascends it's beautiful face and sides with me.
Everlasting sound is sweet.
All I wanted, to not be alone, but still you always leave me.
I want your eyes fixed on me, So I can watch them as you scream.
And you were so beautiful.
But now you'll rot.
And no one will see your face. And no one will dare speak your name.
I won't remember your eyes.
I won't remember the jealousy.
What choice is left for me? What choice is left for me?
This is a war I must take,
To wash these hands clear from choices that I've made.
I'm not impressed. Still not impressed.
I'm not impressed.
Still not impressed.
Now you'll rot. Now you'll rot.
I won't remember your eyes.
I won't remember the jealousy.
I won't remember your face. And I'll forever curse your name.
Curse your name.
I want your eyes fixed on me,
So I can watch them as you scream. I want your eyes fixed on me.
