

Hanging Judge

Armored Saint

I realize that my life
Tonight must deal with fate
Painful dwelling
I can't fight the feeling I won't hold a grudge
I'll face the hanging judge
No reason to stall
You might as well call the hanging judge I have a soul that's been lost
In the climb too many times
Painful dwelling only left wondering I won't hold a grudge
I'll face the hanging judge
No reason to stall
You might as well call the hanging judge I emphasize that
My final goal has been made
Painful dwelling
Hear my voice yelling I won't hold a grudge
I'll face the hanging judge
No reason to stall
You might as well call the hanging judge
The hanging judge, the hanging judge You might as well call the hanging judge
