Hanging Judge

Armored Saint

I realize that my life Tonight must deal with fate Painful dwelling I can't fight the feelingI won't hold a grudge I'll face the hanging judge No reason to stall You might as well call the hanging judgeI have a soul that's been lost In the climb too many times Painful dwelling only left wondering I won't hold a grudge I'll face the hanging judge No reason to stall You might as well call the hanging judgeI emphasize that My final goal has been made Painful dwelling Hear my voice yellingI won't hold a grudge I'll face the hanging judge No reason to stall You might as well call the hanging judge The hanging judge, the hanging judgeYou might as well call the hanging judge
