

To the Republic

As They Sleep

To the republic for which it stands
We have sacrificed and met demands
The rhetoric of a sovereign nation
The searing screams of exasperation If logic is the money of the mind
Then clearly we have spent ourselves blind
Unite, unite Depreciate the American dollar
Magnify this quest for power
Alas, when everything is said and done
Who will be the anointed one? It's so easy just to push the blame
When at stake is a politician's fame
It's so easy just to push the blame
And bring on endless suffering Have we not learned from yesterday?
Or are we blinded by hypocrisy?
Have we not learned from yesterday?
Tempers flaring every word that you say Have we not learned from yesterday? You cannot finance destiny
The art of losing is not hard to master
It's so plain to see
That we are falling faster Aim your guns high
You have to learn to walk before you learn to fly
Aim your guns high
But when the bullets fall back to earth, they may take your life To the republic for which it stands
We have sacrificed and met demands
The rhetoric of a sovereign nation
The searing screams of exasperation One nation under God
That doesn't seem to be the case
One nation under fraud
Emancipate this dying race
