[Intro: Laura Mvula]

Hey there you, looking for brighter season

Need to lay your burden down

Hey there you, drowning in a helpless feeling

Buried under deeper ground[Verse 1]

I seem depressed, always being bothered never less

Keeping me out of prison and putting me to the test

They ask me what is happiness, you write it on a cheque

Or you feel it on the sweat, when your dick is in the breast[Chorus: Laura Mvula (reversed)]

Hey there you

When the lights go out and you're on your own

Hey there you

When the lights go out and you're on your own

[Verse 2]

If death is what it seems, why is it so vividly portrayed within my dreams?

The fear of understanding the Devil's running his course

Pitchers not receivers, it's coming straight from the source

Remorse, as this time becomes a factor, minds full of greed, exposing your benefactors

Backwards, pace backwards, everybody is superficial

Only breaching the surface, surface upon the Earth

And flames engulf the Earth, and prized possessions, they incinerate

This is far beyond any director tried to demonstrate

See the record, here's the record, take the record, set it straight

Perplexed, only receive slumber when that heaven gates

And this is fairly simple for your breath, try and contemplate your conversates

Hesitate and navigate your inner traits

Back to a time where minds were just matter

If you stated opinions then bones would begin to shatter

It didn't matter back then cause there was no reacting, acting up

Chevy in black, Acura

Accurate facts put the black in fact

If you thought that you are free, you should disregard that

All facts

[Chorus: Laura Mvula (reversed) & XXXTENTACION]

Hey there you

When the lights go out and you're on your own

Young X'ster, call me a young Dexter

Hey there you

When the lights go out and you're on your own

My hypothesis, is, death ain't shit
Hey there you
I'd rather die than be alive in this life
When the lights go out and you're on your own
Honestly full of strive and strive
Hey there you
When the lights go out and you're on your own[Bridge: Laura Mvula]
Hey there you
Try to stand up on your own two feet, and, stumblin'
Hey there you
Try to stand up on your own two feet, and, stumblin'
Hey there you
Try to stand up on your own two feet, and, stumblin'
Through the sky
Through-through the sky[Hook: Laura Mvula (reversed)]
Hey there you
When the lights go out and you're on your own
Hey there you
When the lights go out and you're on your own
Hey there you
When the lights go out and you're on your own
Hey there you
When the lights go out and you're on your own[Bridge: Laura Mvula]
Hey there you
Try to stand up on your own two feet, and, stumblin'
Hey there you
Try to stand up on your own two feet, and, stumblin'
Hey there you
Try to stand up on your own two feet, and, stumblin'
Through the sky
Through-through the sky
