Captain (Million Miles an Hour)

Something for Kate

i built an aeroplane it was just like the real ones that i saw when i was younger but it was too small for me to crawl inside the cockpit and fly away at a million miles an hour (x4) and it took me years underneath the house we lived in i threw my head and my heart in the cockpit the sounds of the engines the voices from upstairs i only heard my crew preparing me for take off (x4) preparing me (x2)
and it's just a model built with plastic and with glue but every day i go down to the airport and i fly away from i fly away from you (x2)
